

Creating Quality for Life

Jerry, HaoJie Gong

Assistant Assembly Engineer,
Kimball Electronics China

▣ Started at Kimball Electronics in 2023

- Jerry is from Nanjing, Jiangsu Province, China and spends his free time traveling, immersing himself in diverse cultures, and savoring new foods. Each of his journeys broadens his perspective and leaves him with unforgettable experiences. He is also passionate about running to relieve stress.
- Jerry joined Kimball Electronics right after earning his bachelor's degree in 2023. He has experienced tremendous growth over that past year and ten months of being apart of the team. Working in a dynamic environment has allowed him to deepen his understanding of the EMS industry, refine his technical expertise, and develop strong problem-solving skills.
- He states the reason he thinks Kimball Electronics is so unique is because of the company culture. He believes Kimball fosters a long-term improvement mindset and an internal learning culture. Through both internal and external training, employees are encouraged to develop their skills, and experience-sharing is actively promoted. This commitment aligns with Kimball's purpose of "Creating Quality for Life", ensuring that every initiative, from skill development to innovation, contributes to lasting excellence.