

Joey Clark

Director of IT Business
Partnerships and PMO
Kimball Electronics Shared Services

▣ Started at Kimball Electronics in 1999

- Joey is from Jasper where she spends lots of her free time with her family and supporting her two sons, traveling when she can, and reading some good books.
- The aspect that Joey likes most at Kimball is that the company has such a strong enterprise mindset, and when challenges arise the teams consistently come together, supporting one another in order to solve problems and drive solutions that benefit Kimball Electronics as a whole.
- Joey chose to work for Kimball Electronics because of the many growth opportunities that the company has to offer especially when it comes to career growth. The experiences she has had thus far have allowed Joey to expand her knowledge, collaborate across organizations, and continuously learn and evolve with the business.