MORE ABOUT LEN

Len resides in Lyons, Wisconsin where he spends his free time with his family canoeing, hiking, volunteering, and working on prairie and woodlot restoration.

Len's favorite memory with the company was in his early tenure with Kimball Electronics, Len worked with the China facility to host a new multinational customer in which they would spend time developing a launch plan. The customer planned to spend two weeks at the facility to help them but after the second day they ended up booking their flights home explaining they were impressed with the teams expertise and felt that they did not need their help in completing the launch plan.
